

Where Do Your Interests Align?

Explore, learn, and connect with ABMS

Everyone's path into medicine looks different. Your interests can help point you toward the specialty that's right for you. How would you like to practice?

Relationship builder:
Longitudinal care, continuity, coaching

Procedural fixer
Hands-on intervention, immediate impact

Diagnostic detective:
Complex cognitive work, pattern recognition

Tech and data interpreter:
Imaging, labs, tools revealing answers

Acute responder:
Fast-paced, high-stakes, episodic care

System improver:
Population health, prevention, quality, safety

Whatever your medical interests, there's a specialty and often a subspecialty that fits. As you grow into your role as a physician, ABMS board certification becomes a powerful way to show you've put in the work and that you're committed to learning, improving, and providing care patients can trust.

ABMS specialty boards offer board certification in 38 specialties and 89 subspecialties
